

Thank you, Mr. Evil

-Russian Roulette against Evil-

Jun Togo

Have you ever worried that someday, someone might point at you and call
you a bad person?

Then someday, you would face a big trouble...

It doesn't really matter if you are really a bad man. The question is how others judge you.

Although you might believe that you always do the right things, there is no complete way to avoid the risk of being misunderstood as an evil.

Good and evil seems to be a very rough classification with only 2 classes. How it goes depends on each person and moreover, human beings are living creatures that often misunderstand one another.

By the way, just say that there are many people on the earth who believe that they must fight against evil.

Therefore, many people are committing a "bad men hunting".

There is a "bad men hunting" in the international community.

Who has violated
human rights?

Who is killing the lovely animals?

Who are the terrorists?

Who are destroying our environment?

There is also a "bad men hunting" within a nation.

There is also a "bad men hunting" in a company.

There is also a "bad men hunting" in a class.

How scary! Today again, people are hunting bad men. Now, question for you.

{Question} What will slow the pace of bad men hunting?

{Answer} If there are enough bad men found, the pace of the hunting will slow down.

The purpose of a bad men hunting is to fight and beat the evil. The more you find and the stronger they are it becomes more difficult to beat them.

Therefore, the pace of a bad men hunting inevitably slows down once many of them are found.

Look, someone found a bad man.

Now let's attack the bad man together!

Hey, you too must fight against the bad man. Otherwise, you would be regarded as the one on his side.

You, see? While they are fighting against a bad man, the bad men hunting is temporary suspended. In addition to that, if you also fight with them, you are automatically to be on the good men's side. Then your chance to be hunt as a bad man will become very little.

Now you understand, don't you? The reason you can live safely in the world where all the people are devoted to bad men hunting is that there are others who have been hunt as bad men, who are fighting desperately now.

Thank goodness,
I am not him

While Mr. Bad is receiving all attacks and hatred from people, your chance to be hunted as a bad man is very small.

He has been weakened!

Thank you, Mr. Bad.
Thanks to your suffering,
I can live peacefully

But if he loses,

Then...
Who's next?
